Full Text of JOE Listing:

RAND's Economics, Sociology, and Statistics Department has openings for applied microeconomists at all levels of experience. Applicants should have a PhD or expect one by September 2014. RAND economists may choose to work in any of the many active research areas at RAND and teach policy PhD students in the Pardee RAND Graduate School. We seek candidates with strong research potential or accomplishments relevant to RAND's strengths in health and health policy, labor, aging, economic development, education, environment, civil and criminal justice, and defense.

RAND is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Application Instructions:

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research paper, and three letters of recommendation at https://econjobmarket.org/. Applications will be considered only through EconJobMarket; please DO NOT apply at www.rand.org or by email.
